

Tell Me the Stories of Jesus

Crack the Code

How to Play:

- I like to start by singing through the song once before we start a new activity. Simply sing through the song, then show them the code. Ask if they think they can figure out this code. What do they think the symbols might mean? What do they notice?
 - o Pattern repeats, three colors, it always ends with the swiggle, etc.
- Sing through the song again asking them to watch for any patterns. What did they notice? What might the dots represent? If they give the right answer, say lets sing through and see if that fits! If not, let's try singing through again. Point along to help them follow the code the second time if they didn't pick up on any patterns the first time through.
- After cracking the code, sing through only the dots, then only the dashes, then finally only the swiggles.
- For a challenge: sing the first line with only the dots, second line with only the dashes, third line with only the swiggle, and the final line sing all the way through!

Code Key:

. Short note

- Medium note

~ Long note

