

Primary Love Notes for Valentine's Day

The children will love “spreading the love” with these cute love note printables! There are a few ways to use them and incorporate this fun activity in Primary, so pick the option that’s best for your group.

How to Play:

Print out a set of Primary Love Notes for each of your Primary children to have one.

Have the children color in something they love about Primary. Post their love notes all over the whiteboard or on an unused bulletin board where you can let them stay up for a couple of months!

Or you can have the children make Valentines for someone in the ward! You might make Valentine’s Day cards for any of the following people, then deliver them as a Primary!

- The Bishop or other Church Leadership
- The Primary Presidency
- Their Primary Teachers
- The Young Men and Young Women (The kids can share what good examples the older kids are to them! The YM/YW I think are often overlooked!)
- Their Parents or Siblings
- Have them pick a friend in the Primary room. Maybe everyone makes one for the person to the left in their class.

You can use the heart template to have the children simply write their names, write one thing they love about the person you are giving them to, or decorate their hearts! Print them on colored paper to add more color to your valentines! Then, you can heart attack the Bishop’s office door, the Primary room door, or anywhere else in the building!

You can play the music to several Primary love songs while you give the children a few minutes to design their Valentines.

Extension Activities:

- Hide the hearts around the Primary room attached to an object or simply a song title! Then, sing that song about LOVE! When they’ve collected enough hearts (you might pin them in groups for a large Primary) then have them color them in!
