

I Love to See the Temple Emoji Game

Activity Instructions:

1. Create short phrases of I Love to See the Temple using emojis and single letters or numbers.
2. Cut out each phrase so that each phrase is only about 3-4 pictures long.
3. At the beginning of primary, put the first phrase that says “I love to see the temple” on the board.
4. Using the clues from the emojis, invite the children to guess what song you’ll be practicing.
5. Once they guess correctly, review the first verse of I Love to See the Temple.
6. Bring out the rest of the emoji sentence strips and put a few on the board.
7. Sing the song again, but this time have children try to figure out what the emoji phrase says. Have them come up to the board and write the phrase next to the emoji word strip.
8. Continue singing and solving the puzzles until you’ve completed all the emoji word strips!

Extension Ideas:

- Make it a class competition! After reviewing the verse, give each class their own set of emoji word strips. While you sing, have each class race to see which class can solve all the emoji word strips first!
- Pass out an even number of word strips to each class. After they figure out which phrase is being depicted, have each class sing only their assigned word strips. Have them switch word strips after each run-through.
- Post the emoji word strips around the room. While you sing, have children grab a word strip if they think they know what it means. Have them hold their word strips and solve them after singing! See who is holding the most word strips AND solves them correctly.
