Father's Day Letter to Dad

Activity Instructions:

1. Print out as many copies of the foldable letters as you have kids in your primary. Make the cards by cutting along the edges so that you have no blank space outside the card.
2. Then, place the second page with the letter on top of the first page and fold along the center line. You will have some blank pages. This is a great space for more coloring or writing!
3. Staple both pages together to make a booklet. Repeat these steps for the rest of the books!
4. Choose which Father's Day song(s) to sing during primary. You may choose to review just one song or a few different ones.
5. Start by reviewing one of your Father's Day songs. Then, explain that you'll be writing letters to your dads during singing time.
6. Pass out the booklets and crayons to each class. Have the kids work on drawing or filling in the blanks for the letter. Have teachers nearby to help little ones who can't read yet.
7. While the kids draw/write their cards, have the pianist play the song in the background or bring a speaker to play the song. You may invite the kids to sing or hum along while they color.
8. Sing through the song again at the end of primary and be sure to have the kids take home their cute, homemade letters to dad!

Extension Activities:

- Make a Father's Day card for your bishop and other bishopric members. While you sing, have the children quietly come up a few at a time to write on the card.
- Before primary, write "I love my dad because..." on the whiteboard. While you review your Father's Day song, invite the children to come up to share a reason they love their dad.
- Add in brothers, uncles, or grandpas to help everyone feel included! Bring in blank Father's Day cards and let the kids write letters to other people in their lives.
