The Creation Jingle Bells

How to Play:

- Your primary children are sure to love this upbeat, joyful song that celebrates Heavenly Father's wonderful creations.
- For a fun way to review this song, bring in some jingle bells and shake when you hear things that God created.
- I've created a simple printable poster with all the creations mentioned in this song. Simply print out a copy and you're all set for singing time!
- Before passing out jingle bells, sing through The Creation once.
- Then, tape the keyword posters on the board. Who can tell me what all these things have in common? Exactly! Heavenly Father created ALL these things!
- Pass out jingle bells. Listen carefully as we sing! If you hear something that Heavenly Father created, shake your bell!
- Try it slowly once, listening for creation words. Did you catch them all? Let's try it again!
- This activity is a great way to get in lots of repetition while keeping things new and exciting by trying to listen for the keywords.
- Collect all the jingle bells at the end, and share your testimony of God's love for us.

Extension Activities:

- Switch things up by shaking along with the rhythm. Help solidify the rhythm by tapping out the rhythm as you sing. You may have to slow down the tempo the first time through!
- Bring in a few more rhythm instruments to add some variety! Egg shakers, rhythm/maori sticks, and sand blocks are great options!
- Assign one word poster to each class and have each class take turns singing different sections of the song.
- Point to one side of the room at a time and take turns shaking on the keywords.
